Superintendent's Message

We had a great opening to the 2017-2018 school year! Things have been busy here in the district as our capital project winds down. Hopefully you can make it to our School Open House on October 5 to meet teachers and to see the updates to our building and grounds. I want to again thank our capital project steering committee and our community for supporting this project that has provided added safety features and much needed updates to our school.

Thank you to Mr. Digsby and his custodial staff for the incredible amount of work they did this summer to work around the contractors while meeting the needs of the district. We had lots of moving of furniture, room changes, and cleaning. The student workers also did great work as they painted, lugged furniture, cleaned, and worked along with the buildings and grounds staff. This summer work program has been available to students for many years and it provides students with an opportunity to not only make money but to gain valuable skills and experience that can help them in future jobs and care of their own homes. Thank you to this year's student workers: Makayla Lewis, Dustin Nesbitt, Brian Banks, Shane Vreugdenhil, Hunter Oliver, Madolin Lull, Vasiliki Drapaniotis, Tyler Scanlon, Nick Cammer, Jennifer Davis, and Karli Hinman.

Thank you to Mr. Joe Zaczek and our transportation staff for their safe transportation of our most precious cargo, your children. The drivers in our district are the first point of contact for students each morning and they do a great job of being there to make each students day start off great! Once in school, students can have a delicious breakfast prepared for them by our cafeteria staff. Our cafeteria staff provides students with delicious homemade meals with a smile. Each cafeteria staff member is student centered and works hard to provide many options for students and staff. Thank you to Mrs. Susan Sebeck and her dedicated kitchen crew!

Welcome to all of our new faculty, staff, students and their families, we are thrilled to welcome you into the GMU family! We have lost many staff members this year but I feel confident that we have hired some incredibly talented people. Making connections with students on the bus, in the halls, in the classroom, cafeteria, and on the fields and courts is so important to all of us!

Our faculty and staff, teach, guide, listen, and provide much needed support to our students. They tirelessly give of themselves each day and are truly present for our students. I would like to thank our teachers and staff for their dedication to our students and the GMU school community! Together, our teachers will be working on an improved literacy program and improvement of all instruction district wide. Our work together after students dismiss at 2:15 on Fridays, will allow teachers the time to collaborate together in teams across grade levels and subjects. These teams are called PLCs, or Professional Learning Communities. The work that teachers do in these teams will greatly enhance the instruction we provide to students here at GMU.

Communication with our school and extended school community is important, so please don't forget to utilize this newsletter, and our district website along with other social media sites (Facebook and Instagram) to access the most up to date schedule of events here at school and to see what is going on with our students! Our web address is www.gmucsd.org.

Our fall sports are in full swing with numerous soccer games and cross country meets taking place. Thank you to all the coaches who give of their personal time to provide lifelong lessons through sports. I firmly believe that as adults/spectators, we need to model appropriate behaviors that we want our students to adopt as adults. It is imperative that we are always demonstrating good sportsmanship at all contests. Watching a contest can be much more enjoyable for all involved if we are encouraging and making positive comments. Please support our students in our athletic contests and all extra-curricular programs that they participate in. Having supportive fans can provide a positive boost of energy for all involved!

Parents, students drivers, and community members, please remember that we want to keep all of our students as safe as possible, so on these foggy fall and slippery winter mornings, remember to take it slow and be aware as you cannot pass a school bus that has it's lights on. Also, during morning drop-offs and afternoon bus loading, the front circle is closed to all traffic except our busses. During these times it is best to use the parent drop-off and pick-up area adjacent to the playground. It is also prohibited to pass a bus in our front circle any time of day. Have a fantastic fall.

—Mrs. Annette D. Hammond, Superintendent

Memo from the Health Office

Many things influence a child's progress and success in school—one of the most important is their health. Children must be healthy to learn. Children with cavities are not healthy. Cavities are preventable, but they affect more children than any other chronic disease (as per California's Dental Health Association).

Baby teeth are very important, they are not just teeth that will fall out. Children need their teeth to eat properly, talk, smile and feel good about themselves. Children with cavities have difficulties in some or all of these areas. They may also have problems paying attention and learning at school. Tooth decay is an infection that does not heal and can be painful if left without treatment. If left untreated, adult teeth may be permanently damaged.

Here is important advice to help your child stay healthy:

- Visit dentist twice a year (or as suggested by your dentist)
- Choose healthy foods for the entire family
- Brush at least twice a day (use fluoride if suggested by MD)
- Limit soda and candy. These contain a lot of sugar which causes cavities and contributes to weight problems.

I hope this information is helpful to you in ensuring good dental health for your child/children.

School Nurse

Confidential Toll-Free Line

Troop C of the New York State Police reminds people of the creation of the toll-free line for the confidential reporting of potentially dangerous situations in the 16 school districts of the DCMO BOCES. This system, housed at Troop C Headquarters, is answered by a machine which is regularly checked by police officials.

This system is not designated for callers reporting an immediate threat; such calls should be reported to "911" or other appropriate emergency service providers. The phone number is available on posters placed in the school districts and also through school district publications.

Main Office News

On the first day of school your child came home with a Student Information Form, be sure this has been returned to the school for use in case of an emergency. The Student/Parent Handbook was also sent home and it is important that you also read through the handbook with your child(ren) and be aware of the any changes.

Some reminders for parents at the start of the school year

- Please look at what your children are wearing before leaving the house for school, so that you can make sure their choice in clothing meets dress code expectations. These expectations are outlined specifically in the handbook.
- Send your child to school with a note if they arrive late, are leaving early, or have been absent. Having a note will ensure that your child has an accurate attendance record. These notes must be written and signed by a parent/ guardian and must have a reason for why they are late, leaving early, or were absent. If a reason is not included in the note, students will be marked with an illegal absence. Students also need a note if they are not taking the bus, or if they are riding the bus with a different student or if they are being picked up by someone other than their parent.
- Bus note change: No changes to busing may be made after 10:00 a.m. each day. If you need to make changes to your child's busing after 10:00 a.m., you must arrange the change on your own based on the child's scheduled drop off location. Note that your child's note can only be written either for the week, or sent in daily. We cannot allow changes after this time because it has become a safety issue in the past and keeping all of our students safe is our priority. Thank you for your understanding with this. You may drop off a note at the front desk, fax a note (607-783-2254), or email changes to busnotes@gmucsd.org before 10:00 a.m. the day of the change. Preferably bus note changes should be brought to school with your child no later than the morning of the change. Please make sure your bus note includes the following information: the child's full name, regular bus number (or animal), the full name of the person whose house they are going to (i.e. Jane Doe; not Aunt Jane) and that bus number or animal and the street address.
- Start the school year off right—Set up a quiet time and place for your child(ren) to do homework and set a bedtime for your child(ren) that allows them to get at least eight hours of sleep a night. Get a routine set up that includes asking your child(ren) about their school day, looking at their agenda/homework folder/Friday folder for homework assignments and notes and other information from the school or your child's teacher. And please, don't hesitate to call the teacher with any questions.

- Parent/Teacher communication is important for the success of your child. I encourage you to please contact your child's teacher if you have any questions or concerns.
- Please recognize that when you pull your child out of school for vacation it is an illegal absence. Know that even if you request work for your child, there is nothing that can replace the direct instruction received from a teacher by being in class. If you choose to take a vacation during the school year, you can expect that your child may miss some free time or recess to make up the direct instruction lost during their absence.
- Please remember that if you are sending in money or a check with your child please put it in an envelope with your child's name, teacher's name and reason for the money (i.e. lunch, book fair, etc.). We would also like you to go through your child's backpack each night to check for communications from the school. Students in grade PK-6 should be bringing home a homework folder with information and/ or homework assignments that need to be checked by you. Students in grades 3-6 have an agenda book that should be coming home every evening and you should be reviewing this and signing off in it. Please ask your child about these and review the information every evening. Be sure your child packs their folder with the agenda book in their bag, signed by you or their care provider every day. Please do not send in candy or soda with your child for lunch or snack. If you pack your child's lunch consider adding at least one fruit and vegetable each day to keep their lunch balanced and healthy.
- Late Bus: In an effort to accommodate increasing transportation needs for our students, the District has extended the late bus departure time. Monday through Thursday the late bus will leave the school at 4:30. Students staying after school for any program, including sports, need to sign up during their lunch to take the late bus each day.

4th-12th Grade After School Program

We are again offering an After School Program that will take place each Monday through Thursday. Students can stay after school to get homework help by a teacher/aide or just use the location as a quiet place to get school work done. The After School Program will be held in the library and will begin at 3:05 p.m. and end at 4:25 p.m. I hope that students take advantage of the extra help they can get in the After School Program.

attitude toward school improves with the increase in communication between parents and teachers.

Thank you so much for sharing your children with us and please don't hesitate to contact me with any questions or concerns. The teachers and I look forward to seeing you at Open House!

I am looking forward to a great year of partnering with parents and community members.

Elementary Counselor Corner

Welcome back GMU students and families! I hope that everyone had a relaxing and joyful summer. Now that school is back in session students need to get back into the routine of things. Attendance is very important here at GMU and September is National Attendance Awareness Month. Please make sure that your child arrives on time for school and is ready to start their day. Some ways in which you can help foster responsibility with your child is having them pack their lunch the night before, get their homework done and checked the night before and picking out their clothes the night before. There are many more things that you can do to help your child be on time and ready to learn! With that being said, we also want our students to develop independence, resiliency and be good problem solvers. Here are some tips to help your child develop these essential skills:

Helping your child become an Independent, Resilient, Problem Solver

Building Independence

Children need to help out and feel needed. When we expect and appreciate their contributions, we help them see themselves as capable. Here are some ways to help foster independence:

- Carry their own belongings
- Jump in to lend a hand when someone has a lot to carry
- Lay out their own clothes and dress themselves
- Pick up their own toys
- Take their dishes to the sink
- Pack up their homework and place it by the door after completing it

Building Resiliency

I know that it is hard to see our children be unhappy, but we need to avoid removing the bumps in the road of life if we want to develop children who believe they are capable of solving their own problems.

As a parent we often want to swoop in and rescue instead of having our children experience the situation and the consequences that come with it. When we don't jump in, we allow them to make their mistakes and face the consequences. We also send the message that we believe they are capable of handling it and learning from it.

We must teach children that mistakes are all about learning! Everyone makes mistakes in life and that's okay.

Teaching Children How to Problem Solve

As a parent we can often want to step in to tell our children how to solve a problem rather than help them learn how to look at the what, the why and the how. If we teach them the following steps, it will help them learn the process of working through a problem.

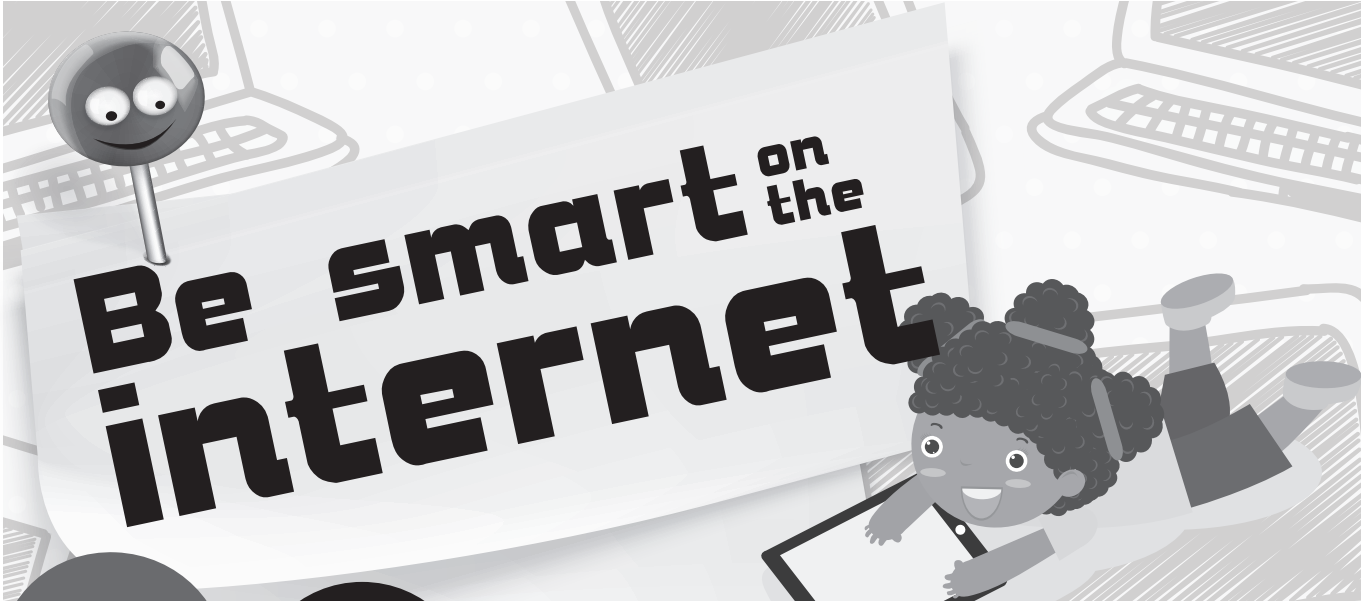

- First, listen to what happened and acknowledge their feelings.
- Then ask why do you think that happened or why do you think they have that rule or why do you think he/she did that?
- How can you handle it differently next time?
- If they can't come up with an idea ask them if they would like you to help brainstorm some solutions. You might even say, "I know with your great brain and mine working together we can come up with a solution".
- Send them off and say, "Let me know how it goes". This lets your child know that you believe they are capable of managing the situation.

I am looking forward to another great and successful year! As always if you have any questions or concerns please feel free to contact me at any time.

Senior of the Month

September

Congratulations to September's Senior of the Month, Lucas Piedmonte! As many of you know, Lucas has been a leader at GMU since his arrival, in fact very presidential. He is currently the President of the Student Council, of which he has also served as Secretary and Vice-President. He has been and is President of his class, as well as SADD. Lucas is a member of NHS, Mock Trial, Spanish Club and Leadership Club. He participates in Symphonic, Marching, and Jazz Band, where upon he plays tuba, sousaphone (and drum major), and bass guitar in that order respectively. Lucas has been seen on stage in chorus, musicals and dramas.

This man for all seasons has also participated in HOBY and in RYLA this past June. He has been a member of the soccer team on the field for GMU; off the field is a member of the Grange and has been on several mission trips for his church. Presently Lucas is enrolled in AP U.S. Government and Politics (no surprise there!), TC3 Pre-calculus, Computer Applications, College English, U.S. History through Music and Culture, Band, Jazz Band, and College Success Seminar.

We thank Lucas for his dedication to GMU and wish him well as he plans to pursue a degree in political science in college! As John F. Kennedy stated, "Let us not seek the Republican answer or the Democratic answer, but the right answer. Let us not seek to fix the blame for the past. Let us accept our own responsibility for the future."

October

Congratulations to Savana Conrade, October's Senior of the Month! Savana attended Empire Girl's State this past summer and is currently on the soccer team. Savana is a hard-working young lady with a big heart. She is an active member of her class, NHS, and Leadership Club which mentors younger students. Savana is also involved in Mock Trial, Spanish Club, and has been a past officer for Student Council. She was the president for Symphonic and Marching Band (clarinet player) and Jazz Band (trombonist).

Currently Savana is enrolled in TC3 College Success Seminar, Chemistry, College English, Economics, and, of course, Symphonic and Jazz Band. At present, Savana is moving toward an interest in business, as she prepares to apply to colleges. As Confucius said, "Wherever you go, go with all your heart." We wish her much success and happiness in her future endeavors!
