VOLUME 26, NUMBER 5

January 2016

MISSION STATEMENT: The Gilbertsville-Mt. Upton School District is committed to an educational environment that assures equitable opportunity for individuals to become College and Career Ready and ultimately, responsible, productive members of society. We will encourage individual excellence in students of all ages that they may gain a lifetime enthusiasm for work and learning.

Superintendent's Message

Hoping that 2016 is a rewarding year for all! Our new Principal Ms. Wickham has almost been here a month. She has met several students and parents and is working hard to get to know our GMU school community and all that is important to us. If you have not met Ms. Wickham, please take the opportunity to introduce yourself to her when you are in the school. Thank you to all who came out to meet Ms. Wickham at our meet and greet on December 1. You certainly made her feel welcome to our school and community.

One great way to start off this year is to join us for the Junior Musical production of Captain Bree and Her Lady Pirates. It will be held here in our Auditorium on January 29 at 7:00 p.m., and January 30 at 2:00 p.m. You can also join us this basketball season which is in full-swing. Please check our website for a link to the sports schedule.

We had 148 community members who came out to vote for our Capital Project on Tuesday, December 1. The changes designated in this project will allow us to create a more secure environment for all students and staff. Support of this project demonstrates that we are a community that values students and their safety and I am very proud to be your superintendent. Thank you!

We are in the process of developing a budget for next school year. We hope to receive the governor's executive proposal this month, which will give us some direction on funds allocated to schools. The district continues to be committed to providing an outstanding educational program for our students balanced with a reasonable tax levy for our district taxpayers. I will offer budget updates for you in our upcoming newsletters.

—Annette D. Hammond,
Superintendent and CSE Director

Elementary News

Happy New Year! With January comes very cold weather! Students do go out for recess if the temperature and wind chill is above 20°F. Please be sure your child is appropriately dressed for the outdoor weather with boots, hat, mittens, snow pants and a winter coat. Unless your child has a doctor's note, they will be required to go outdoors for fresh air. Also, please recognize that the temperatures of the classrooms vary so your child should dress in layers or keep a sweater/sweatshirt in school (labeled with their name). Please do not send your child to school wearing tank tops, capris, shorts or clothing not appropriate for winter weather. The lost and found is also accumulating winter garments, so remind your child to check the nurse's office for any lost items.

As you are aware, we have been using the automated call system for information, including early dismissals due to the weather. For this to be successful we need to be sure your phone numbers are updated with us at all times. Early dismissals and delays are also still available on the website and on any of the following radio stations: WCDO, WDOS, WKXZ, WZOZ, WSKG or watch WBNG-TV Channel 12. When having to dismiss early, children will be sent to the address you gave us on your Student Information Sheet. If this person/location changes, please let us know immediately or if you know in the morning that there will be a change in your child's drop off point that day, please send in a note to Mrs. Cabrinety at the front desk. As a reminder, we cannot take last minute phone calls of changes—for your child's safety.

January Reminders

- 18 NO SCHOOL—Martin Luther King, Jr. Day.
- 29 Junior Musical, Auditorium, 7:00 p.m.
- 30 Junior Musical, Auditorium, 2:00 p.m.

Pre-K Registration Info

If you have a child that will be 4-years-old by December 1, 2015 and are considering applying for the Pre-K program for next school year, please contact Mrs. Clapp in the Guidance Office to be sure we have your name and address for mailing out information and applications. She can be reached at 783-2207, ext. 141. I encourage you to please continue working with your child(ren) on learning their phone number and address, too many of the students do not know this information.

MS/HS News

Happy New Year! All students need to attend school during Regents Week because we will be having regularly scheduled classes. There are only a few students who will be pulled from classes to take exams.

Regents week is January 26-29.

There will be no school on Monday, January 18 in observance of Martin Luther King, Jr. Day. The second marking period ends on January 29. The end of this marking period marks the half-way point for the school year!

As you know, the weather this time of year is unpredictable and can be dangerous to travel in. Students who typically drive to school are always welcome to take the bus on a day that they or their parents are concerned about the weather. Students just need to be out at the bus stop prior to the bus arriving so that the driver sees the student. It is important that students listen to the radio on questionable days so they can be alerted to a delay or possible school closing. Radio stations that broadcast our school information are: WCDO, WDOS, WKXZ, WZOZ, WSKG or watch WBNG-TV Channel 12. See below for a full list of stations. You can also access this information on the district website www.gmucsd.org. You will also receive a School Messenger call at the phone number, which you provided to the District this year. Please make sure your phone number is up to date with the school. You can call Mrs. Ostrander in the Main Office. As always, please do not hesitate to contact us with any questions or concerns.

—Ms. Denise Wickham, Principal

Senior Interviews Completed

The fall semester is in full swing, and believe it or not, graduation is only six months away! Mrs. Wilcox has met with each senior to discuss future plans after graduation. A packet of information was also provided containing resources for college searches, financial aid, and scholarship information. Please refer to the Senior Checklist for a general list that seniors should be working on.

It is FAFSA Time!

January is the time to file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid! Do not wait, do not procrastinate! Seniors need to complete the FAFSA to be eligible for federal, state and college sponsored financial aid. The FAFSA can be completed online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. The FAFSA needs to be submitted as early as possible to be sure you meet your college's aid deadline and allow time for corrections if needed. A mistake on your FAFSA can delay the processing of your application by up to three weeks. If you have questions about this process, please do not stress.

Avoid the most common FAFSA mistakes:

- Leaving blank fields—enter a '0' or 'not applicable' instead of leaving a blank. Too many blanks may cause miscalculations and an application rejection.
- Using commas or decimal points in numeric fields—always round to the nearest dollar.
- Listing incorrect social security number or driver's license number—check these entries and have someone else check them too. Triple check to be sure.
- Entering the wrong federal income tax paid amount—obtain your federal income paid amount from your income tax return forms, not your W-2 form(s).
- Listing Adjusted Gross Income as equal to total income—these are not the same figure. In most cases, the AGI is larger than the total income. This mistake is particularly common.
- Listing marital status incorrectly—only write yes if you're currently married. They want to know what you're marital status is on the day you sign the FAFSA, or Renewal FAFSA.
- Listing parent marital status incorrectly—the custodial parent's marital status is needed; if they've remarried, you'll need the stepparent's information too.
- Leaving the question about drug-related offenses blank—If you're unsure about something, find out before you submit your FAFSA instead of leaving it blank. A conviction doesn't necessarily disqualify you from getting aid.
- Forgetting to list the college—obtain the Federal School Code for the college you plan on attending and list it—along with any other schools to which you've applied.

- Entering the wrong address—your permanent address is not your campus or summer address.
- Sending in a copy of your income tax returns—you will be contacted if your information needs verification; you don't need to send a copy of your tax returns in with your application. If selected for verification we would need verification documents along with tax return transcripts (copies of tax returns are not sufficient).
- Create a Federal Student Aid ID - An FSA ID gives you access to Federal Student Aid's online systems and can serve as your legal signature. Only create an FSA ID using your own personal information and for your own exclusive use.

If you have any questions while completing your FAFSA, please call to make an appointment to meet with Mrs. Wilcox in the Guidance Office, (607) 783-2207, ext. 118.

PSAT 10

The PSAT 10 is a practice SAT exam that will debut in the Spring. It is designed specifically for sophomores in high school and familiarizes them with the testing format. There are three sections to the PSAT 10, including reading, writing and math. Students who take the exam on February 24, will be given a score report that provides them with information about their strengths and weakness. Sign-up sheets are available for students in the Guidance Office.

HOBY

The Hugh O'Brian Youth (HOBY) Leadership delegate selected to represent GMU at the 2016 HOBY seminar is Lucas Piedmonte. He was selected because he has demonstrated the potential to lead others. The HOBY mission is "to inspire and develop our global community of youth and volunteers to a life dedicated to leadership, service and innovation." The HOBY Leadership seminar encourages students to improve critical thinking skills, enhances leadership skills, reviews the democratic process, develops goal setting skills and challenges students to complete 100-hours of volunteer service. The 2016 seminar will be held at SUNY Oneonta in the spring. Congratulations, Lucas!

Info from the Health Office

The following are most of the reasons for a child being sent home from school:

- Fever
- Vomiting
- Diarrhea
- Chills
- Sore throat
- Possible strep throat
- Bad cold, with a very runny nose or bad cough
- Stomach ache not relieved with rest
- Headache not relieved with prescribed medication
- Conjunctivitis (pink eye)

It is very important, for the health of his/her fellow classmates and staff (as well as your own child), that he/she remain home until symptom-free for 24-hours. When a doctor makes a diagnosis of strep throat or pink eye, your child must be on antibiotic treatment for at least 24-hours before his/her return to school.

Thank you for understanding these guidelines. They are meant to serve the best interests of all students and staff.

—Carol Angelone, RN, School Nurse

Memo from the Health Office

Our school, once again, has been selected to report to the Department of Health the BMI (Body Mass Index) and percentiles of selected grades. This will be submitted in January. The submission is by numbers only, not by individual student names. A memo regarding this submission has been mailed out to parents/guardians with the option of not having your child's information reported. These numbers are gathered from the student's physical done by their Health Care Providers; they are required to note these numbers on the student's physical form which is then transferred to the school record.

BMI percentile is pretty accurate, says childhood obesity researcher David Kaelber, MD, a pediatrician at MetroHealth in Cleveland. "BMI percentile isn't perfect, but it's extremely rare that someone would fall into the obese category simply because he's muscular," says Dr. Kaelber. But with many Americans now overweight or obese, most of us have lost sight of what a healthy weight looks like. So be sure to discuss your child's BMI percentile with his pediatrician, and take the information seriously. "Parents often assume, 'My child will hit a growth spurt and puberty and that will solve the problem.' That's absolutely not true," says Dr. Kaelber. In fact, his research shows that children who are overweight or obese before puberty are about 20 times more likely to be overweight or obese after puberty.

Conditions like high cholesterol, high blood pressure, diabetes and fatty liver disease (when fat deposits accumulate in the liver) are more common in overweight and obese kids, so if your child is heavy, make sure his doctor screens him for them annually (as per Barbara Brody in an article written for Woman's Day magazine). She also suggests helping kids slim down. Instead of putting kids on a diet, which implies deprivation, help them adopt healthy habits that will last.

Let Them Help with Prep

"Kids are more likely to eat what they've been involved in making."

Encourage Volunteering

Boredom often goes hand-in-hand with overeating; volunteering keeps them busy and boosts self-esteem (which can help protect against disordered eating), says American Dietetic Assoc. spokeswoman Melinda Johnson, RD.

Limit Eating to the Kitchen Table

Munching while distracted (by a TV show, video game, etc.) leads to eating hundreds of extra calories, says Karen Ansel, RD, coauthor of the Baby & Toddler Cookbook.

Let Them Eat Dessert

"Indulging a little every day means kids won't feel deprived and will be less likely to overeat," says Elisa Zied, RD, author of Feed Your Family Right! Just remember to keep portions small.

Keep Track of What is Eaten

If your child is struggling with his or her weight, suggest that s/he writes down on paper or text himself every time s/he eats.

Cold Weather Precautions

At this time of year, it is a good idea to talk to your children about cold weather safety. Extra care is needed, especially in younger children, to be sure that frostbite does not occur.

It is important to check your children's, even teens', outerwear everyday during extreme weather conditions. Warm jackets, hats, scarves, boots, and an extra pair of dry gloves in their pockets will protect them during extremely cold temperatures.

Develop an emergency plan and teach your children your emergency plan in case you are not home before the bus comes to pick them up. If a bus is delayed, they need to know where, when, and how to get help if they think they are waiting outside for a bus longer than they should or if they sense danger. Tell your child that if you are not home while they are waiting outside for the bus, how long they may wait outside, where to go in the event the bus is delayed, and what the dangers and risks of extreme weather are.

Explain danger signs and risks of when to seek help:

- the child gets cold or wet, especially boots or gloves
- the child feels pain or numbness anywhere especially hands, feet, ears, nose
- the child senses s/he has waited longer than five minutes when you have alerted him/her that temperatures have dipped into the teens, especially on a windy day
- the child thinks s/he may have frostbite, which behaves like a burn and requires medical attention.

Teach your child about your cold weather plan even if you are not there to help him/her. Be sure your child knows when to ask for help, where to find safe shelter in an emergency, and how to protect him/herself with proper winter clothing and an understanding of danger signs.

Stay warm and safe. Happy winter!
—Carol Angelone, RN, School Nurse

Veteran's Day Presentation

It is with great pride that students and staff honored our local veterans. We recognized thirty-eight veterans. The entire student body, along with staff, community members and families of the veterans witnessed a POW presentation and personal acknowledgement of each veteran's service. When tallying their years of service together, these local veterans have served our nation for over 225 years. As a thank you for their service to our nation, the CFES club served breakfast to the veterans, their families and student sponsors. We will continue to offer this tremendous event each year and hope that more veterans can join us next year!

Thank You

STEAM in the Elementary

During the last two months, the third and fourth grade has been working on numerous STEAM activities having to do with events that occur in the Fall. STEAM is Science and Technology, interpreted through Engineering and the Arts, all based in Mathematical elements. The A in STEAM includes Language Arts, Social Studies, Physical Arts, Fine Arts and Music. Students had a great time exploring the states of matter, building structures, designing animated computer graphics, learning about chemical reactions and participating in a virtual field trip upon the Mayflower and to Plymouth, MA, just to name a few activities. It was a very exciting couple of months in third and fourth grade!

—Mrs. McMullen and Mrs. Bennett

Do You Have a STEAM Career? Are you a STEAM Star?

STEAM stands for Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Math. The STEAM team at GMU is looking for you. In order to encourage our students to explore STEAM-based careers, we are creating a Steam Star Wall of Fame featuring people associated with GMU and their occupations. Please send us a photo of you doing your job, along with a bio describing your work, your place of employment, and anything else you think would be of interest, and we will post it on our wall where our students can see it and become inspired. You can send your picture and bio to jcostello@gmucsd.org, mseigers@gmucsd.org or ltalbot@gmucsd.org. Thanks for helping our students to explore exciting and rewarding STEAM career opportunities.

GMU Academic Team on “Double Down”

The High School Academic Team competed against 36 Syracuse area high schools to be one of the 16 schools to participate in WCNY’s award-winning high school academic quiz show, Double Down. The show airs on Sundays, at 6:00 p.m. on WCNY/PBS—Syracuse with host Bill Baker. Answering the tough questions at the PBS Studio were Seniors: Madison Banks, Elaina Palada, Colin Wind and Juniors: Molly D’Amato, Kayla Grabo, Nicole Grabo.

The GMU Academic Team will participate in the Upstate Academic Competition sponsored by the Catskill Area School Study Council in January at SUNY-Oneonta.

6th Grade Build-a-Vehicle Challenge

While the sixth-grade continues their exploration of the universe—as well as Earth’s place within it—we have also recently taken a creative detour to utilize the Engineering Design Process in our Build a Vehicle Challenge! During this event, students were challenged to create a vehicle using only household materials. Their goal was to create a vehicle that would coast down a 3-meter inclined plane at the fastest speed possible. Students designed, planned and created their model prototypes, tested them, improved them (as often as necessary), and finally competed for the best time. This was a fantastic learning experience for the students, and we look forward to our next Engineering Design Challenge!

—Mrs. Banks and Mr. Trass

Spanish Class Trip

On November 4, Spanish classes from GMU and the Foreign Language Club traveled to Syracuse to see a presentation by the Ballet Folklórico Mexicano Ollimpaxqui. Ollimpaxqui means joyful movement in Náhuatl, the language of the Aztecs. The company of dancers, singers, and musicians that performed was beautifully costumed and captivated everyone with an authentic and vibrant show that was joyful and included much audience participation.

5th Grade Meteorology Unit

In science this quarter fifth graders have been learning about the many aspects of weather. Students learned about temperature, humidity, air pressure, the water cycle, fronts and climate. They conducted experiments to investigate what happens when air masses meet and how temperature on Earth is affected by factors such as angle and color. Students researched an extreme weather topic and taught a lesson on that topic, which included a demonstration and a quiz.

To conclude our weather unit we welcomed meteorologist Jill Reale from WKTV News Channel 2 who spoke about weather and her career as a meteorologist. Students even made their own weather centers to observe, record and predict the weather each day. We LOVE weather and think meteorologists are awesome!

—Mr. Cimineri, Mrs. Cummings

Artist of the Month

Our final Artist of the Month for 2015 is Dannaka Rasmussen, who is a first grade student in Ms. Privitera's class. We were making giant chameleons, and first we looked at all the beautiful colors and patterns chameleons have on their skin. The students then traced the stencil I had for them, and we made a large curly tail so it could hold on to a tree. Dannaka's design was so original and colorful! Her favorite part of the project was coming up with the design and colors. She said she really liked working with the markers to make the designs on the body.

Dannaka's favorite medium to work with is clay. But she also likes to make landscapes, and do flowers and trees. Her favorite colors to work with are pink, purple and orange. Great work, Dannaka!

—Mrs. Theis

Senior of the Month

Congratulations to January's Senior of the Month, Matt Delaney! As a member of his class, Matt has been involved in all activities, including donut sales, Junior Carnivals, Prom-anything that needs to be done-behind the scenes and without wanting to be noticed. He has been a member of soccer, basketball, and baseball throughout his years at GMU, supporting his teammates and his coaches and giving 110%. He is an avid lover of virtually all sports, the statistics involved and the rules, strategy, and history surrounding them. He has a wide array of interests along with school and professional sports that include hunting, fishing, snowmobiling, editorial writing, and interactive technology. Most know Matt for his sarcastic sense of humor and his social experiments that involve getting popular phrases and sayings to catch on amongst his peers. He has been involved in symphonic, marching, and jazz band as a percussionist, particularly on the drum set. Presently he is enrolled in TC Intro. to College Experience, SUNY Cobleskill Computer Applications, English 12, Economics and Participation in Government, and WWII elective. We wish Matt well as he pursues a career in Sports Broadcast Journalism, Communications, and Media. Maybe someday we will witness his work on ESPN, NBA, or MLB Network! Thank you Matt for helping us to remember the humor in life and to enjoy each day as it comes!

Girls on the Run

The Girls on the Run registration is just around the corner! Mrs. Monaco and I will be coaching the Girls on the Run 3-5 team again this year and we are looking forward to another great season! Please visit the Girls on the Run website www.girlsontheruncny.org for further details concerning the upcoming season. On the website you will find information regarding scholarship opportunities, and the 5K next spring! All registration will be done online through Raceplanner. We will be hosting an open registration at the school on Tuesday, February 2, from 4:00-6:00 p.m. where we can help you register and answer any questions you may have about the season. Registration will be available online February 1-14. We can not wait to see what the new season will bring!
